SOME BAD WEATHER IN MARCH

Blustery, windy, March is living up to the fullest expectations. In the thirteen days to date, the month has presented a variety of weather guaranteed to put the peace advocates in the scrap heap, and to send good temper to a back seat. There has been more mean weather in March so far than all the past winter. We have had rain, snow, sleet, thunder, lightning, a little sunshine, and all the other sorts the weather man had in his bag of tricks. Still we are hoping for the best. Is there anything in the old saying regarding the entry and departure of the month we should have some nice weather at the tail end of March.

Take a few shares of our stock and invest the "scraps" of your income where they will earn a high rate of interest for you and help some one else buy a home.
